

WIN a wedding fireworks display worth £1,200

For the perfect finale to the perfect day, Flashfx is offering EDP Bride magazine readers the chance to light up the sky with a professional wedding fireworks display.

Flashfx has been tailoring fireworks for weddings for several years and has seen the popularity of this specialised service increase as people look for ways to make their big day extra special.

The winner of this prize will experience a truly impressive display lasting 15-20 minutes.

Flashfx undertakes its own risk assessments for any event it provides and has full public liability insurance cover.

It is also licensed to handle category four fireworks, which includes mortar shells and larger fireworks not available to the general public.

The location does have to be suitable, and safety, environmental impact and noise pollution all have to be taken into consideration. Flashfx has a list of suitable venues on its website, but it is suggested that you check with the venue first.

If you want to see Flashfx in action, there will be a display at the Perfect Day Wedding Exhibition, which takes place at the Royal Norfolk Showground on February 20-21. The display will be on the Saturday at about 4.30pm, so pop along to get a true idea of this impressive finale.

And what's the closing date for entries? November 5, of course!

■ For more information call 07834 520605, email des@flashfx.co.uk or visit www.flashfx.co.uk

How to enter

Simply answer the question below and send to EDP Bride Fireworks Competition, Prospect House, Rouen Road, Norwich, Norfolk, NR1 1RE, by November 5, 2010.

Don't forget to tell us your name, address, phone number and wedding date. The first correct answer drawn on the closing date wins the prize. Usual Archant rules apply.

Q: Name a type of firework?